Day 1

Check in! Guntersville Bed & Breakfast is the perfect spot for you and your girls! Enjoy 'Happy Hour' with homemade sangria on the patio when you arrive. They also serve breakfast, so y'all will be more than taken care of when you wake up.

Supper time! Head down one block on Gunter Avenue, and enjoy a top notch dinner at Old Town Stockhouse. Chef Crystal McKone obtained her culinary arts degree in New York City and was a notable chef in Atlanta before coming back here to create some of the best dishes you've ever put in your mouth.

Day 2

Total relaxation! After you have enjoyed your homecooked breakfast at the B&B. Ride over to the Soak House and Soapery to enjoy a relaxing spa day! You can soak in a tub filled with everything your body needs including salts and essential oils. Their facials will also leave your skin glowing. And make sure you get a spray tan for that perfect sunkissed skin.

Shopping! Downtown Guntersville has shopping galore for your gal pals. You can find the trendiest clothing boutiques like Magnolias on Main and Blossom Boutique, so you can update your wardrobes. There are also stores to find the newest trends on home decor like Fants. You can also stop in to shop Mosley's Monogram and sip some wine in their cellar in the back of the store!

Wine and dine! Time to head to Albertville for the ultimate winery experience at Jules J. Berta Vineyards. They have won several awards for their wines. Once you've enjoyed that, you must get a wood fired oven pizza and a wine slushie for supper!

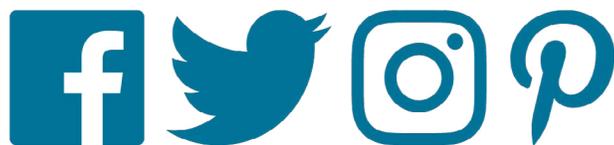

Day 3

Brunch, please! The Rock House Eatery is the place to brunch! From mimosas to world class Bloody Marys, you and your girls will enjoy the best brunch you have ever had!
